

Efficient connections to the hinterland

Over 30 million tonnes of cargo are transported by rail every year through the Port of Antwerp and account for over 250 daily trains (to and from the port). An open access infrastructure is provided with 1100 km (700 miles) of railway tracks, 22 public rail sidings and a rail link to each terminal in the port.

The Port of Antwerp is centrally located in the heart of Europe. 60% of Europe's purchasing power can be found within a 500 km radius (310 miles), giving the Port of Antwerp a strategic position to link the world's principle maritime routes with the immense consumer/industrial centres of Europe. With immediate access to extensive road, rail and inland shipping networks, the most efficient hinterland connections to these centres are provided.

As the Port Authority, we support the development of a safe, reliable and flexible rail freight market for all our customers.
